The position to be filled is aimed at recruiting a person capable of taking on a teaching and research mission with the aim of contributing to the implementation of the NORMANTHIIA Call for Expressions of Interest. The contract is for a period of one year, renewable twice (i.e. 3 times 12 months) to cover the period from 01/09/2024 to 31/08/2027.

Minimum educational requirements: doctorate in law in progress (the thesis must be defended within one year) or obtained.

I. TEACHING PROFILE :

Training sectors concerned

- levels : Licence Master

- degrees concerned : Licence Droit, AES et administration publique et masters

- materials : general private law, digital law

Objectives in terms of teaching content and supervision:

The person recruited will teach private law (CM, TD and seminars) at bachelor's and master's level, or as part of preparation for competitive or professional examinations; depending on his/her profile, he/she may also be offered teaching in digital law.

As this recruitment is aimed at implementing the NORMANTHIA call for expressions of interest, the successful candidate will be expected to take part in the teaching of an Option Droit de l'intelligence artificielle (Artificial Intelligence Law Option). The person recruited will help coordinate this module.

II. RESEARCH PROFILE :

Theme/Project :

The teacher-researcher recruited will be attached to the Institut caennais de recherche juridique (ICREJ - UR 967) and in particular to the "Law, science and digital" axis. Ideally specialized in digital law (data and artificial intelligence law, or even cybersecurity law), he/she will contribute to setting up or carrying out research work initiated by ICREJ in this discipline.

Recruitment objectives :

The teacher-researcher recruited will be involved in ongoing research projects in the field of digital law. An appetite for collective and interdisciplinary research is expected, in particular with computer science colleagues (Laboratoire GREYC).
